THIS PRESS RELEASE WAS ORIGINALLY RELEASED IN SWEDISH FOR THE SWEDISH MARKET AND HAS LATER BEEN TRANSLATED TO ENGLISH FOR GENERAL AWARENESS ON THE GLOBAL MARKET

SenzaGen's share offer heavily oversubscribed prior to listing on Nasdaq First North

The offer of shares in SenzaGen AB ("SenzaGen" or "the Company") prior to the Company's listing on Nasdaq First North was heavily oversubscribed. The Company expects to raise SEK 90.1 million through this new share offer, before issue costs. Estimated first day of trading in the Company's shares on Nasdaq First North is 21st September 2017, provided that Nasdaq Stockholm AB approves the Company's application.

The application period for SenzaGen's offer ended on September 12th 2017. The offer was addressed to both institutional and professional investors, as well as the general public in Sweden. When the offer has been registered with the Swedish Companies Registration Office (Bolagsverket), the number of shares will increase by 4,645,000 to a total of 15,461,000 shares. Through the share issue, the Company has acquired more than 1,000 new shareholders.

Subscription undertakings

Prior to the subscription period, most existing as well as new institutional and qualified investors had undertaken to subscribe in advance for shares to a total of approximately SEK 75 million, corresponding to 83 percent of the offer. Among those who undertook to subscribe in advance are Ålandsbanken Funds Ltd, Leif GW Persson, Jörgen Book (formerly with global market responsibility for strategy and pricing of respiratory products at AstraZeneca) and Per Lindberg (former global technology analyst and now an investor).

Certified Adviser and Issuing agent

Vator Securities are the Company's financial adviser and Baker McKenzie is the Company's legal adviser. The issuing agent for the transaction is Nordnet Bank.

About GARD

GARD™ is a group of tests for assessing chemical skin sensitizers. The tests make use of genetic biomarkers for more than 200 genes which cover the entire immune reaction and are relevant to predicting the risk of hypersensitivity. The tests have up to 90% reliability.

This compares with the current predominant test method, experiments on mice, which has an accuracy of 70-75%. SenzaGen's tests are also capable of measuring the potency of a substance's allergenic properties. Consequently, GARD™ tests provide a much more comprehensive basis for determining whether a substance should be classified as an allergen than current testing methods.

About SenzaGen

SenzaGen makes it possible to replace animal experiments with in vitro genetic testing to determine the allergenicity of the chemicals we come into contact with in our daily lives, such as for example in cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, food products and dyes. The company's patented tests are the most reliable on the market and provide more information than traditional evaluation methods. We ourselves sell the tests in Sweden and the USA, and we sell through partners in several other countries. Over the next few years the company will expand geographically, make alliances with more distribution partners and launch further unique tests. SenzaGen has its headquarters in Lund in Sweden and a subsidiary in San Francisco, USA. For more information visit www.senzagen.com
